Royal Flying Doctor Service
QUEENSLAND SECTION

Go further, with a gift in your Will to the Royal Flying Doctor Service
(Queensland Section)

Thank you for furthering this vital cause... ...and going Above and Beyond.

As one of our truly generous supporters, I know you understand the critical role the Royal Flying Doctor Service plays in the lives of remote, rural and regional families — many of whom are the lifeblood of our great state.

When you, or someone you love, finds themselves facing a medical emergency — every kilometre from care matters. Which is why the Flying Doctor can be the difference between life and death, as is your support.

The Reverend John Flynn leased our first aircraft in 1928, with a Gift in Will that was left to him by a friend who believed in his vision.

For almost 100 years our service has grown, but so has the need. Your Gift in Will means that we will be there for the next 100 years and beyond.

Inside, you'll learn how leaving a gift in your Will can help to provide the finest care to the furthest corners of our state for many generations to come. I hope you'll consider it.

Warmest regards,

Meredith Staib
Chief Executive Officer
RFDS (Queensland Section)

It all started with a legend who went further than anyone else.

In 1928, Reverend John Flynn's remarkable vision was realised.

The Royal Flying Doctor Service was started more than 95 years ago by Reverend John Flynn.

In 1917 Reverend Flynn received an inspirational letter from Lieutenant Clifford Peel, a medical student with an interest in aviation. The young airman and war hero suggested the innovative use of aviation to bring medical help to the outback.

Shot down in France, Peel died when he was just 24, and he never knew that his letter became a blueprint for the creation of the Royal Flying Doctor Service.

For the next 10 years, Flynn campaigned for an aerial medical service. His vision was to provide a 'mantle of safety' for the people of outback Australia. Flynn's dream became a reality when long-time supporter, Hugh McKay, left Flynn a gift in his Will. That gift was used to lease our first aircraft.

It was through this special gift that the Flying Doctor first took flight from Cloncurry, Queensland.

Today, we're hoping you too will make a gift in your Will, so we can go further for generations to come.

Reverend John Flynn's dream of the Flying Doctor was achieved thanks to a Gift in Will, which allowed him to lease his first aircraft.

The Flying Doctor promises to be within two hours by air from anyone in Queensland, because the best available medical care should be available to everyone.

Nikiha Davies from Chinchilla knows every minute matters. When she went into labour with twins at just 25 weeks, she knew her babies would need specialist care to survive. She was airlifted to hospital by the Flying Doctor with our Flight Nurse looking after her and her babies on board.

"I knew that whatever happened during that journey, my babies were as safe as they could possibly be," recalls Nikiha.

Today, the twins are happy and thriving and Nikiha is forever grateful to the Flying Doctor for the exceptional care she received.

Nikiha's twins, Nash and Reuben are happy and healthy today thanks to kind people like you.

A history of dedication

Meet the Flying Doctor.

While our aircraft attract attention, it's our passionate people who are the heart and soul of everything we do.

They are the best of the best, able to provide emergency medical care in the skies over Queensland – meet some members of our team which make up the Flying Doctor: Dr Ben Clarke, Nurse Practitioner Claire Bayliss and Captain Victoria Harrison.

Dr Ben Clarke

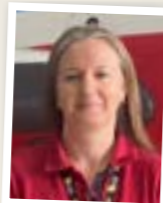

Ben has been a Doctor for 20 years, specialising in emergency medicine.

"The best part of my job is being able to train current and future Doctors in emergency retrieval medicine and bringing consistently high-level clinical care to the people of rural and remote Queensland."

Nurse Practitioner Claire Bayliss

Claire has worked as a Nurse for 15 years.

"I specialise in primary healthcare, chronic disease, women's health and I have a background in emergency medicine. My specialist Nurse Practitioner training was funded by a Flying Doctor supporter."

Captain Victoria Harrison

Victoria has been with the RFDS for a little over 12 years.

"I love the people – our staff are so great, such a variety of backgrounds and all here to get the job done. Our patients and their families are wonderful. It doesn't seem to matter how sick they are, they're always so appreciative and usually excited to have a 'girl' Pilot too!"

Why we chose to go further for those who need our help.

Meet long term Flying Doctor supporters, John, Juanita, Ian and Lesley.

John, with wife Juanita.

John has always called outback Queensland home. Now in his eighties, he lives with his wife Juanita just outside Theodore, 180km inland from Rockhampton. He continues to work alongside his son on the property he's owned for over 65 years. John knows first-hand the importance of the Flying Doctor for families like his:

"It's unfortunate to have an accident, but it does make you aware of what a wonderful service the RFDS is. I've flown with them twice and received first-class care. I've chosen to include a donation to the Flying Doctor in my Will as they're an incredibly important service for families like mine living rurally."

Jundah residents, Ian and Lesley are long-time supporters of the Flying Doctor. After moving to regional Queensland from a capital city, Ian quickly learned how vulnerable those in isolated areas could be.

Both Lesley and Ian have been supported by the Flying Doctor – Lesley was flown from Longreach to Rockhampton after falling ill and Ian received counselling at his local primary health care clinic run by the RFDS. Ian has included a gift in his Will to help the RFDS continue to save lives.

We are deeply grateful for John, Juanita, Ian and Lesley's kindness and generosity.

Ian and Lesley.

You are part of the team that goes Above and Beyond

Thanks for going further for people like me.

Wildlife Ranger, Craig Dickmann, was packing up his fishing equipment at a remote beach on Queensland's Cape York Peninsula when he was attacked by a 2.8 metre crocodile. Although Craig managed to fight the croc off, he was left with limb-threatening injuries to his arms and legs.

After administering pain relief to Craig over the phone, from the RFDS medical chest at Bramwell Station, RFDS Medical Officer Dr Katrina Starmer and team set out to retrieve Craig to Cairns for urgent medical treatment.

"We met Craig in the dark and ushered him into the aircraft to assess his injuries," recalls Katrina. "Flight Nurse Katie and I cleaned and dressed Craig's wounds to stop the bleeding. We gave Craig intravenous fluid, antibiotics and more pain relief, before flying back to Cairns."

They arrived back in Cairns in the early hours of the morning, where a waiting ambulance took Craig straight to hospital for surgery.

Despite the severity of his injuries, Craig has made a full recovery. He's extremely grateful to everyone who helped him on the day an ordinary fishing trip took an extraordinary turn.

From the painkillers in the Medical Chest, to the Patient Trauma Kits on every RFDS aircraft, your support gives our crews the equipment they need to save lives.

Craig is grateful for a complete recovery
